Sunbeam lending a hand at Wayside

The Wayside Chapel, in Kings Cross for 45 years, every week sees people presenting themselves to show their life after addiction and after homelessness.

There is always hope and there is always good stories taking place. There are always people leaving the street to set up house and set up a new life. The move to a new life is not easy by any measure. It's tough to move into a unit with nothing and try to establish some kind of normality.

Local resident and Sunbeam employee, Zoe Tattersall, recognized the difficulties being faced by those about to move into a new home. "There are quite a few hoops to jump through to be approved for Departmental Housing, so it seemed like a good idea to put together some house warming presents for successful applicants"

"I put a proposal to David Jackson (Sunbeam CEO) that we donate some Sunbeam products to the Wayside. David was happy to approve the idea and allowed me to start choosing and sourcing the products over the next few months, and the Sunbeam Start-up Kit was born. We put together 5 kits with a variety of essential household products such as a toaster, a kettle, a cooking appliance, a heater and an iron", Zoe Tattersall said.

On Friday 18th at 12.30pm, Zoe and David Jackson will be presenting the first batch of Sunbeam Start-up kits during the weekly cooking class at Wayside.

Pastor of the Wayside Chapel, Rev. Graham Long appreciates Sunbeam's gesture for those who 'fall by the Wayside'. "Sunbeam has recognised that the best place to offer support is at the very moment when people bravely step out on a pathway to a better life.

On Friday, We'll be jumping for joy because of the practical help that has come because Sunbeam is lending a hand", Rev Long said.
